Excerpt from The Hot Springs Medical Journal, Vol. 3: March 15, 1894 The second case was that Of Mr. B., Of Nebraska, aged forty, a strong healthy looking yeoman. He had sustained an injury to the spine four or five years before, which had caused no symptoms which would remind him of the fact except a growing weakness in the small Of the back. He, however, suffered from rheumatism in the lower extremities, and failing to be relieved by the local physician, resorted, unfortunately, to the baths at this place, and for six weeks continued to bathe, growing weaker and more feeble each week. The case was not brought under my Observation until the Sixth or seventh week Of his sojourn. He was then in bed suffering intense pain in the spine in nearly its whole length with a continued fever of about 100 degrees. My diagnosis was chronic myelitis. It was the opinion of both myself and the attending physician that the spine Should be placed at rest in the plaster, but it was too late. The impossibility of using the Sayre...
