Createspace, United States, 2014. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .In a collection of 45 short stories, extracted from his journals, the author chronicles people from his early years in a small rural town and later in his 50-year working life in the wider world. He highlights people who provide expert assistance in times of need and other interesting people, who appear unexpectedly in odd circumstances. Two of these appear as the author suffers engine failures in small aircraft in the mountain west, one of them at night. Although a few obstreperous misfits appear along the way, the reader will close the book with upbeat feelings about fellow human beings. Intersections Of People Time And Place Unusual meetings across broad spaces of time or geography or both. People Just folks that don t fit the other categories. Washington Hamster Wheel Incidents and people encountered during the author s frequent excursions into the governmental arena. Aeronautical Stories Events from the author s experiences in engineering flight testing and as a pilot of small airplanes for more than 60 years. Airline High Jinx Engineering work for airlines brought close contact with airline flight personnel, an unusually bright and interesting group of people. Corporate Years Much of corporate internal policies...
