

Biennial Report of the North Carolina Department of Agriculture, 1923 (Classic Reprint) (Paperback)

By North Carolina Agriculture

Forgotten Books, 2018. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Biennial Report of the North Carolina Department of Agriculture, 1923 In order to greatly increase their efficiency, the Department of Agriculture has begun a comprehensive building program on the seven branch station farms. At the Mountain Station a magnificent poultry plant has been erected, together with several good houses for the laborers. A good dairy barn and other out - buildings have also been completed on this farm. The same is true of the other farms, and an effort is being made to have them reach the highest point of efficiency in serving their particular sections. Recently the Board of Agriculture turned over the old Serum Plant farm, near Raleigh, to the Animal Industry Division, for more extended tests with swine. This will make the eighth branch station farm now being operated with Department funds. As usual, the Department fostered the work with women, and no more outstanding piece of work 111 the South has been done than that accomplished this past year by the Home Demonstration Division in establishing curb markets and stall markets for the rural women. This is,...

DOWNLOAD

READ ONLINE

[4.28 MB]

Reviews

It is just one of my personal favorite publication. It is among the most awesome publication i have read. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

-- Delia Rutherford

This pdf is very gripping and fascinating. We have read and that i am certain that i am going to going to read once more again in the future. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

-- Burnice Cronin