Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Annual Report on the Archeological Programs of the Western Region: Calendar Year 1977 This is the 1977 Annual Report for the Western Archeological Center, Western Region, National Park Service, U. S. Department of the Interior, and the sixth since the Center was restructured and moved from Globe, Arizona, to Tucson, Arizona, in July 1971. National Park Service directives require that each area will report annually, through its regional office, the accomplishments, completion of goals, projects and other data relative to the area s respective mission. The report documents expenditures to assure allocated monies have been spent for previously authorized projects, and were used wisely and productively. In addition to satisfying legal requirements, this report is an historical chronicle of each year s events. It documents knowledge gained in the field of cultural resource management and conservation through surveys, excavations, professional research, and stabilization and preservation of both historic and prehistoric structures, and objects. The report also informs park management of the archeological and materials preservation assistance available to support work of individual parks, the regional offices, and the Denver Service Center.
