

On the Gull's Road (Paperback)

By Willa Sibert Cather

Createspace, United States, 2013. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . On the Gulls Road is a short story by Willa Cather. It was first published in McClure's in December 1908. Another painter visits the narrator and he is mesmerised by his painting of Alexandra Ebbling. The narrator then thinks back to how he met her, on a ship from Genoa to the New York City, after living in Rome for work for two years. They start talking, stop in Naples for a day, then sail by Sardinia. He moves on to doing a portrait of her, and he gives her a bunch of magnolias he got in Gibraltar and she talks about her ailment for the first time. Two days later when he sees her husband neglects her just before going to a concert on the ship, he goes and tells her they should run away together because they love each other. She explains she can't because she is ill. She gives him a box that he shall only open sometime later, when she tells him to by letter. She then takes a ship back to her father's in...
