The following account is taken from an old MS., formerly in the possession of Stevenson of Balladoole, in the Isle of Man, and was probably written by one of that family, mentioned in the manuscript, giving a detailed narrative of James, Duke of Atholl, and his suite s embarking at Liverpool on board the ship Prince William, commanded by Captain Richmond, on the 9th June 1736, to take possession of His Grace s newly acquired territories of the Isle of Man, and his reception by the inhabitants. It may be as well here to state in what way the Atholl family came to be Lords of Man in place of that of Stanley, who had for so long a time been Kings and Lords thereof. This is best done in the words of James Gell, Esq., Her Majesty s Attorney-General of the...
