

THIRTY YEARS INTO YESTERDAY (Hardback)

By Jefferson Reid

University of Arizona Press, United States, 2005. Hardback. Condition: New. New. Language: English . Brand New Book. For thirty years, the University of Arizona Archaeological Field School at Grasshopper a 500-room Mogollon pueblo located on what is today the Fort Apache Indian Reservation in Arizona probed the past, taught scholars of international repute, and generated controversy. This book offers an extraordinary window into a changing American archaeology and three different research programs as they confronted the same pueblo ruin. Like the enigmatic Mogollon culture it sought to explore and earlier University of Arizona field schools in the Forestdale Valley and at Point of Pines, Grasshopper research engendered decades of controversy that still lingers in the pages of professional journals. Jefferson Reid and Stephanie Whittlesey, players in the controversy who are intimately familiar with the field school that ended in 1992, offer a historical account of this major archaeological project and the intellectual debates it fostered. Thirty Years Into Yesterday charts the development of the Grasshopper program under three directors and through three periods dominated by distinct archaeological paradigms: culture history, processual archaeology, and behavioral archaeology. It examines the contributions made each season, the concepts and methods each paradigm used, and the...
