

Endangered Species Act: The updates (Paperback)

By -

FastBook Publishing, 2013. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book. Please note that the content of this book primarily consists of articles available from Wikipedia or other free sources online. Latest News 2013: Wildlife conservationists have put forward new lawsuit which has as aim to stop the various wolf hunting seasons in Wisconsin and Minnesota! Basically, reports have shown that Humane Society of the United States and other animal welfare groups are the ones who filed a lawsuit to restore federal protections for gray wolves in the western Great Lakes region. The reason behind this halt is clear the gray wolf is in danger of extinction. As a result, reports have demonstrated that the gray wolf in the Western Great Lakes area is back on the endangered species list. More importantly, experts have highlighted that the Endangered Species Act requires that species fully recover their numbers across their traditional range before delisting! In relation to this, official statistics have recorded that people, including trappers and hunters, kill up to 1000 wolves every year.
