Excerpt from The Central Business College, Toronto, Ontario: Accounts of Its Systems and Methods When an application comes in (or a competent stenographer to take a position. No. 1 goes out and No. 2 steps up to her place. The whole thing works like clock-work. Merit is the only thing that counts. Result - competent students and plenty of demand for them. What system of shorthand do we teach? The Revised Isaac Pitman system, the standard the world over, and the system authorized by the Department of Education for use in the Public and High Schools and Collegiate institutes. Our chief concern when we take a student's money is to fit him to take and to hold a position. The fact that we control the largest shorthand school in Canada is fair evidence that we are doing it properly. Others seem to be on a never-ending hunt for some patent system that is to reduce time and effort to zero point.
