Excerpt: . . . raiyats stating the number of pdwdi held and the rent paid by each. Having furnished this account, any new raiyats who may wish to have lands in the village, after having the quantity and rent settled, have a goti given to them. If any of the old raiyats require any new land, a goti is taken for that, but not for the old cultivation. The makato collects the rent as the instalments become due, according to the abovementioned account given to the farmer; and all differences as to the amount of rent payable by a raiyat, if any ever arise, which very seldom happens, are settled by the opinion of the makato. So well does this mode answer in practice, that in point of fact a dispute as to the amount of rent owed by a raiyat is of rare occurrence. When a farmer...
