Malcolm. Malcolm was fond of theories, and loved To pack opinion into parcels trim, And in the pleasant spring of life, which deems Its buds full-blown, he made himself a creed. Old faiths are out of fashion: I believe In love: a simple creed, but it will serve. Incomprehensible, I ve done with thee And all the brood of formless phantasies. Henceforth in travelled highways of the known I walk unawed. Man needs not more than love, Love that knits man unto his fellow-man. Thus Malcolm dreamed and knew not all his need. Now in those days, those foolish, generous days, Malcolm had one near friend, light-hearted Eric, Whose gift it was to spur the lazy hour With song and jest and story, and to win The smile from sadness like the sudden gleam Which warms a wintry sky. His, too, the gift To listen, and to lend an easy ear To the large claims of Malcolm s eloquence, Onslaught on custom, speculation vague, Strange plans for fashioning the world anew....
