FBC LTD, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Foreign Crops and Markets, Vol. 35: October 16, 1937 Prices of domestic wheat during the early part of the new season were above those of the corresponding period of 1936 37 until military activities disrupted business, but the increase was not so great as the advance in world prices. The increase, however, resulted in measures undertaken by the Government to control domestic Wheat and flour prices. Exchange Operations were regulated to curb speculation, and maximum or minimum futures prices were fixed for the exchanges. As a further means for controlling prices, exports of domestic Wheat were prohibited from July 1937 until June 1938. Flour exports were not forbidden.
