Reviews

The publication is simple in go through preferable to fully grasp. I am quite late in start reading this one, but better then never. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Society of American Florists and Ornamental Horticulturists: Report of Proceedings of the Sixteenth Annual Convention and Trade Exhibition at New York City, August 21, 22, 23 and 24, 1900 The usual preliminaries of registering and paying dues by the members, enlivened by the cheery greetings of old friends, were suspended and the formal proceedings inaugurated at 9.45 A. M. Representative florists and horticulturists were present from all sections of the country, some cities, notably Philadelphia, Chicago and Boston, being represented by unprecedentedly large delegations. Many were accompanied by ladies; and, upon the platform, in addition to the officers of the Society and officials of the City Government, were ex-Presidents Smith, Dean and Craig. Address of Welcome. President Patrick O Mara, of the New York Florists Club, welcomed the Society as follows: A year ago, at Detroit, the New York Florists Club invited you to hold your annual session in the City of New York. We promised you at that time that we would do our best to make it pleasant for you during your stay here, that we would try to show you as good a horticultural exhibit as was capable of being produced here, that we would do everything possible for your comfort, and I am glad to say the New York Florists Club has up to the present time carried out the promises made there at that time. We welcome you heartily and unstintedly. We trust that during your stay with us you will enjoy yourselves so that when you go back to your homes you will feel rejuvenated, as it were, and that your interest in horticulture will be increased ten-fold. I...
