By George Clayton Bethel F G a

Xulon Press, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****. George Clayton Bethel was born March 11, 1931, in Miami, Florida. Like his mom Clara and dad George, he made it through the Depression years fairly normal. He was a Boy Scout and avid reader during the WWII years and developed a lifelong interest in the sciences, especially chemistry. Just before graduating high school he met his wife to be and life began in earnest. His interests fanned out like spilled coffee. His life was really diverse and he wore many hats and titles. Here are a few: He sang for and led his own band, The Men of Note. He played in the University of Miami band and orchestra. He was a sign painter and illustrator. He was an electrician for forty years. He became a master gem cutter, teaching at the Museum of Science and Natural History in Miami where he was on the Board of Trustees. He was a successful prospector, discovering uranium and gold. He taught classes and lectured at many schools and clubs. He studied and earned the worldwide coveted diploma of the Gemological Association of Great Britain...
