Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from True Democracy Contrasted With False Democracy: Or, Gen. L. Harrison s Cause Vindicated The proudest man in all Cincinnati, Is Colonel Todd, in full-blown vanity; One would think he was the great Pope of Rome, - His pride and dignity are as marble stone. Or does he imitate a British Peer, And prove himself an aristocratic bear. As editor of the Republican, He assumes the Pontiff in Vatican; There fulminates his own and borrow d news, And some have affirmed his party s views. Diff rence in party there is none t is said, It consists only in a softer bed, - Better furniture, - and some say gold spoons, With more gold and silver coins, and doubloons. Be this as it may, great Colonel Todd, Imitate not so soon the demi god; Great Jupiter had no printer s devils, But you have them in couples and in trebles; Therefore spare the feelings of human kind. I ll leave you now to improve your mind. Learn, that vanity in this republic, Is of all things foolish, and will to you stick. It betrays in you far weaker head, Or that your braihs are pudding, or of lead, Neither of which should you make now appear, Lest you are call d an aristocratic bear. The scale-beams of society are on the balance, - a fly may preponderate either way, - this work may be that fly. If so Gen l. Harrison is sure of his election, as it portrays monarchy and aristocracy in Europe, as well as what ought to be the republican principles of America. The Executive Committe ordered 50 copies of this work, fifty thousand would not have been...
