Vast sums of money were expended in fire-department equipment, and the members of those departments were expert indeed in casting literally oceans of water upon the flames, often doing more damage by water than was done by the fire. This was called Fire Protection. But fire losses in life and property went merrily along, increasing at an appallingly greater ratio than did our population or wealth, until it was finally recognized that they constituted an absolutely unbearable tax upon the communities, though the individual received some imaginary solace by being indemnified for his property-loss by Insurance. The Press, the greatest reform power on earth, did splendid work in awakening the Nation to its terribly fire-ridden condition, and when once...
