Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Softly Falling What exactly happens when the world you live in is different? Different than what you expected. Different in the way you were taught. Jeremy grew up with love. But it was different with his Grandfather and Nana. They had an outlook that made even Jeremy want to sing about it. So he did. The love that he saw between them made hit songs. He and his friends rode the wave. But not long after his Gramps death, the songs just ended. Jeremy could not write, or pull it out of his guitar. He was defeated. The brick wall that he hit was starting to be noticeable. Being drunk, using women, hotel rooms that he tore up; broke more than his heart. He need an out so he went back to the cabin in the wood. Gramps place and tried to find what he had lost.
