Excerpt: . last time straightened the basket containing the roses, and a moment later my guests, exhausted with having climbed four flights of stairs, stood panting before my door. I opened. The Baroness, dazzled by the lights, clapped her hands as if she were admiring a successful stage setting. Bravo! she exclaimed, you are a first-class stage manager. Yes, I replied, I occasionally amuse myself with play-acting, for the sake of discipline and patience. I took off her cloak, bade her be welcome, and made her sit down on the sofa. But she could not keep still. With the curiosity of a woman who has never been in a bachelor s chambers, but has gone straight from her father s house to that of her husband, she began to examine the room. She seized my penholder, handled my blotter, searched about as if she were...
