Springer. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 298 pages. Dimensions: 9.1in. x 6.1in. x 0.7in. The papers contained in this volume were presented at the 13th Annual Symposium on Combinatorial Pattern Matching, held July 3-5, 2002 at the Hotel Uminonakamichi, in Fukuoka, Japan. They were selected from 37 abstracts submitted in response to the call for papers. In addition, there were invited lectures by Shinichi Morishita (University of Tokyo) and Hiroki Arimura (Kyushu University). Combinatorial Pattern Matching (CPM) addresses issues of searching and matching strings and more complicated patterns such as trees, regular expressions, graphs, point sets, and arrays, in various formats. The goal is to derive non-trivial combinatorial properties of such structures and to exploit these properties in order to achieve superior performance for the corresponding computational problems. On the other hand, an important goal is to analyze and pinpoint the properties and conditions under which searches cannot be performed efficiently. Over the past decade a steady flow of high-quality research on this subject has changed a sparse set of isolated results into a full-edged area of algorithmics. This area is continuing to grow even further due to the increasing demand for speed and efficiency that stems from important applications such as the World Wide Web, computational biology, computer vision, and multimedia systems. These involve requirements for information retrieval in heterogeneous databases, data compression, and pattern recognition. The objective of the annual CPM gathering is to provide an international forum for research in combinatorial pattern matching and related applications. This item ships from multiple locations. Your book may arrive from Roseburg, OR, La Vergne, TN. Paperback.
