Not illustrated. 1901 Excerpt: . . . houses were built of wood, except the gable ends; and these were of yellow Dutch bricks. The houses had many large doors and many small windows; and the year in which the house was built was always put upon the front of it in large iron figures. In these simple days house-cleaning was the test of a good housewife. The front door was ornamented with a huge brass knocker--sometimes in the shape of a dog, or a tiger, or a lion, and this was scrubbed every day till often it was fairly worn out with the scrubbing. The whole house was always being mopped and swept and cleaned; for the Dutch housewife delighted in water. The grand parlor was the sacred place of all. In this room no one but the housewife and her maid were allowed to enter. These two visited it once a week,...
