Dog Ear Publishing. Paperback. Condition: New. 100 pages. Dimensions: 8.0in. x 5.0in. x 0.2in. Her mother died when she was three years old. She had to live with her grandmother until she died. The child knew her father was irresponsible; he stayed out all night. At the age of 13 years old, she married an 18-year-old male from a dysfunctional family. The 18-year-old male, father, and brothers had no respect for the law; they wore holsters and guns on their hips out in the open. In addition, the father carried a shotgun; the neighbors feared and hated most of the Gatewood family. Frank Gatewood, second son, was in a fight, and the man he was fighting with shot him in the mouth 12 times, and he lived to talk about it. An older woman is threatening to take the 13-year-old for her husband; she uses black magic and voodoo to cast a spell on him. Therefore, when he comes around his wife, the spell would kill her; however, the spell stayed on him. In addition, he became an alcoholic; he was abusive to his wife physically and mentally. The two boys woke up in the middle of the night, traumatized by the loud arguments and fights their parents had. She was pregnant with the father's baby, and the father had drunk too much alcohol. He was very angry with his wife; she ran out of the house and fell in the mud, and he ran after her, pulling her leg through the mud with one hand and holding a shotgun with the other. The baby was born healthy. When the baby was born, the baby brought peace in the house for a little while; the alcohol problem started up again, and her...
