GRIN Verlag Okt 2013, 2013. Taschenbuch. Book Condition: Neu. 210x148x1 mm. This item is printed on demand - Print on Demand Neuware - Essay from the year 2007 in the subject English - Literature, Works, grade: A, The Open University, language: English, abstract: Following French Symbolism and Decadence movements, the late 19th century bore witness to the rise of Aestheticism, defined and promoted by authors such as Théophile Gautier, Walter Pater and Oscar Wilde. As put forward by Pater, life consists of nothing more than 'impressions, images (and) sensations' and literature was to maximize these 'flickering' moments. Influenced by Gautier and Pater, Wilde declared in his famous preface to The Picture of Dorian Gray that 'all art is quite useless', denying that there was such a thing as an 'immoral' book and condemning utilitarianism in literature. While he acknowledged that 'the moral life of man forms part of the subject-matter of the artist', he rigidly opposed the opinion put forward by writers such as Orwell that all art is simultaneously propaganda. Nevertheless, the aforementioned preface was not only written as a reaction against Victorian literature, but also being written a year after the first publication of the book,...
