Excerpt from Twelfth Annual Report: Presented to the Massachusetts Anti-Slavery Society The Board of Managers of the Massachusetts Anti-Slavery Society, in presenting to their constituents the Twelfth Annual Report of their official proceedings, would congratulate them on the progress which the movement has made during the past year, notwithstanding the fewness of the numbers, and the scantiness of the means, of the Abolitionists of the United States, and in spite of their dim perception and imperfect discharge of their duty. The brief sketch of the general history of the cause, during the term of their service, with which it has been usual for the Board to accompany their account of their own stewardship, will not be marked by so many extraordinary occurrences as have diversified some of their previous anti-slavery annals. But it will not be without some of those salient events, which serve as monuments to mark the progress of the great moral Revolution, in the midst of which we live; a Revolution, which, happily, though we may retard its advance by our treachery or our folly, can never go backwards; but which, with our help or in our despite, must accomplish its noble purpose.
